RK: Race Rank

- This ranks a runner's SFR within all competitors in a specific race, offering a comparative perspective of their potential performance.

RKT: Track Rank

- Track Rank (RKT) evaluates a runner's SFR against all participants in a meeting, identifying those with the highest potential for success based on their rankings for the day.

LAY BETTING – BETFAIR

Welcome to lay betting, a unique betting strategy on Betfair. Unlike traditional betting where you bet on an outcome to happen, lay betting allows you to bet against an outcome.

In horse racing, when you lay a horse, you're betting it won't win. If any other horse wins, your bet wins. If the horse you laid wins, your bet loses. Essentially, you're acting as the bookmaker.

The odds in lay betting are reverse of traditional betting. For example, if you lay a horse at odds of 4.0 with a $10 stake, you'll win $10 if the horse loses. However, if the horse wins, you'll have to pay out $30. The liability (the amount you could lose) in lay betting can often be more than the amount you stand to win.

In essence, lay betting is a valuable tool that, once mastered, can significantly broaden your betting strategy.

Jamie Kah:

- Win Strike Rate: 25%
- Place Strike Rate: 56%
- Count: 16 rides

Jamie Kah exhibits solid performance with a respectable win and place strike rate, offering positive profitability in both win and place markets on average fixed SP. Her consistent performance across a moderate number of rides suggests she is a reliable choice at Randwick.

Jett Stanley:

- Win Strike Rate: 24%
- Place Strike Rate: 53%
- Count: 17 rides

Jett Stanley has the second-highest win strike rate and an impressive place strike rate. Although his win profitability is modest, his place bets have yielded substantial returns, suggesting that place bets on Stanley could be more advantageous

Zac Lloyd:

- Win Strike Rate: 23%
- Place Strike Rate: 48%
- Count: 80 rides

Zac Lloyd ranks third in win strike rate but boasts the highest win POT among the top three, making him particularly noteworthy for win bets. Despite a slightly negative return on place bets, his capability to secure wins over a large number of rides underscores his effectiveness and potential profitability.

Conclusion:

The top three riders by win strike rate demonstrate varied profitability, with Jamie Kah and Zac Lloyd showing positive returns in win bets, and Jett Stanley excelling in place bets. This analysis suggests that each rider has distinct edges in the market, whether in securing wins or places, which investors can leverage based on their betting strategies. Additionally, considering Betfair results, these riders often perform even better on this platform, indicating potential for higher profitability than traditional bookmakers provide.

James McDonald:

- Win Strike Rate: 29%
- Place Strike Rate: 48%
- Count: 58 rides

James McDonald, despite having the highest win strike rate among the listed riders, shows negative profitability in both win and place bets on average fixed SP. His high activity level (most rides among the top) suggests he is a popular choice but might not offer the best return on investment based on these figures.

Chad Schofield:

- Win Strike Rate: 25%
- Place Strike Rate: 45%
- Count: 20 rides

Chad Schofield shows a positive win POT% which indicates good profitability on win bets. Despite a moderate place strike rate, his returns on place bets are slightly negative, suggesting that while win bets on him can be lucrative, place bets might be less dependable.

Kerrin McEvoy:

- Win Strike Rate: 25%
- Place Strike Rate: 63%
- Count: 16 rides

Kerrin McEvoy, with a strong place strike rate, shows solid profitability in place bets, contrasting with significant losses in win bets. His high place strike rate and positive place POT% make him an attractive option for place betting.

Conclusion:

These top riders showcase varying levels of success and profitability in fixed odds betting, with some, like Chad Schofield, demonstrating potential in win bets and others, like Kerrin McEvoy, in place bets. Across the broader data, it's evident that Betfair often provides higher returns, particularly for place bets, as shown in the significant positive Betfair PlaceSP POT% figures for several riders. This suggests that Betfair could be a more lucrative platform for bettors focusing on place bets, emphasizing its potential for higher profitability compared to traditional fixed odds betting.
